Dominion Day Celebration Heartily Joined in by Record Crowd

Many Visitors From Pass Towns Spent Holiday Here—Parade Gave Splendid Start to Festivities—Nearly 1,000 March, Lodges, Scouts, School Children

The national holiday was celebrated in fine style, opening with a patriotic parade in which nearly 1000 people joined, including fraternal lodges, National Slovenic, Polish and Ist K. Sokol, and the Ordine Independente Fior D'Italia, decorated automobiles and floats, Boy Scouts of the Crow's Nest district, and miners and citizens. To the lively music of the Bellevue Silver Band, conducted by Bandmaster Goodwin, the procession marched from the centre of the town to West Coleman and thence to the sports ground. National flags of the various countries represented by the lodges, with Union Jacks and Canadian flags, presented an inspiring sight symbolic of unity and loyalty on the anniversary of Confederation, in which all classes of the community joined with enthusiasm.

A program of sports, including baseball, football, softball and track events, kept the committee fully engaged. Coleman won the football tournament, Hillcrest second. The baseball final will be played on Wednesday, between Blairmore and Coleman Aces. West Coleman girls' softball team won in the girls' softball tournament, with Maple Leafs second; boys' softball was won by Hillcrest, Coleman high school second.

Walter Bobbitt's float, representative of the Red Cross, won a popular decision of first place in the floats; Steve Leosky's decorated auto second, and Harry Boulton's forestry service float third. Charlie Roughhead, one of the Lethbridge Herald newsmen, won first prize in decorated bicycles, his entry being modelled on the slogan, "It Pays to Advertise." D. Moore, second and L. Cyr third. In pet dogs, J. Nash's white poodle won first, Mrs. Burrows second and Mrs. Van Duzee third. A special prize was also given to John D'Andrea, his dog carrying a model airplane.

A feature of the athletic events was the high jumping of the Costick girls of Bellevue, and Annie Litherland. In the boys' high jump L. Goodwin and S. Goodwin of Bellevue gave a fine exhibition, being awarded first and second. Bellevue athletes were prominent in the athletic and field events, there being very good and promising material among the young people there.

The program was carried through without a hitch on the sports ground which possesses a beautiful setting being a natural amphitheatre overshadowed by the mighty Rockies and their snowy peaks, and the day concluded with expressions of pleasure and anticipation of the next celebration of Canada's premier national holiday.

The game to decide first and second place was played last evening. The first prize was $55.00; second $22.50.

Special thanks is due to the various committees who took charge of the program, and to all who assisted in an active way. Dave Gillespie and John Rushman had an extra heavy share of work as the finance committee, collecting subscriptions and attending faithfully throughout the day in paying out prize money and attending to various other details. It was a splendid demonstration of community co-operation in the way in which all classes joined to make the day a success, and encourages the committee to re-establish the celebration of Dominion Day as an annual event in Coleman.

Bellevue Won First Prize

The final of the Dominion Day baseball tournament was played here last evening between Bellevue and Blairmore, the former winning by 9-6, despite Blairmore's lead of 5-3 up till the sixth inning. Where Four Centuries Meet

Uniting the sixteenth and twentieth centuries as typified in the lower left hand and the upper right hand corners of this group, stands the lordly Manor Richelieu, the fashionable holiday resort at Murray Bay on the north shore of the St. Lawrence and the site of the activities of the "One Hundred Associates" of New France. The Casino, shown at the upper left, designed after the famous Chateau de Ramsay built in Montreal in 1705, now houses one of the most complete sound and talking picture installations on this continent. Acoustic engineers of the Northern Electric Company have been working for some time with engineers of the Canada Steamship Lines, to effect the necessary treatment for the perfect reproduction of the best products of the moving picture studios, thus affording visitors to the Manor Richelieu still another addition to the many attractions of this famous pleasure paradise.

How About A Community Survey?

The more favorable weather conditions prevailing throughout the prairie provinces this year as contrasted with the previous three years, and the more encouraging prospects for an average or even better than average crop this year, have had the result of restoring confidence to hundreds of people who make their homes in purely rural districts and in the towns and villages which exist solely because of the agricultural activities in the districts of which they are the centre. True, there is little ready cash yet available, but hope has been renewed that the farming community of Western Canada has brighter days ahead. The acute discouragement of 1931 is passing, and people are again thinking and planning for the future.

Now is the time to think and plan. There are many little things to do that will mean much to community betterment, and to the betterment and improvement of the individual farmstead, but which were neglected in former years, frequently on the plea that people were too busy to attend to them. That plea does not hold good at present; people in our towns and villages are not so busy at present that they cannot afford to give some time and effort to community affairs; that is, things which will for the giving of some time and effort but which do not call for the expenditure of money, and in the doing of which valuable community assets can be created.

Before we can get busy with our own affairs again that we feel we "have no time" for matters of general public concern, would it not be a good idea to make a survey of the "home" town or village, or community centre in strictly rural areas, with a view to effecting some improvement? For example, and without limiting the generality of the whole subject, as the law makers say, what is the present state of the school grounds? Have any trees, shrubs or flowers been planted? If so, has cultivation been maintained, or has the work of the past been neglected and the grounds become overgrown with weeds? Is the school an eyesore in the district, the reverse of an inspiration to the children? Perhaps a little paint is needed, or an odd piece of carpentry. If so, why not organize a community "bee" and put matters right and make the school a place of community pride? A little time and effort by all making a small contribution of a few hours will work wonders. And now about the local cemetery where the pioneers of the community and the loved ones from many a home are sleeping? It reflects the spirit of a community. Is it kept trim, and neat and green, with trees and shrubs keeping off the blistering glare of a hot summer sun, and a few beds of flowers to testify that though friends and loved ones have passed on they are not forgotten? Or is it woefully neglected, a tangle of weeds, a place one shuns to visit, and so desolate that every time a burial takes place, the sorrow and regret of relatives and friends is increased by the thought that the remains of the dear departed one are left in such a place? Travelling over the prairie many such desolate spots are to be noted. Why not devote a few otherwise idle hours to changing the whole aspect of these sacred spots for the better? Let some public-spirited person organize their community to do the work on a purely voluntary basis.

And that soldiers' memorial to which, in the early years following the war everybody was proud to contribute. It was erected, not as a tribute to war, but as a loving tribute and lasting memorial to those of the community who were the victims of war. If it were merely a memorial to war, it would be well to forget it and let it fall into decay. But it is a memorial to our best and bravest who made the supreme sacrifice for us. Is that memorial more beautiful today than when first created? Are there trees and shrubs, green lawns and flowers, all about it, and are they kept trimmed and watered and well cared for? Whatever the answer may be, it will likewise indicate the ideals, the sentiments, the public-spiritiveness of the community of today.

You reside in the treeless, level prairie country, and, if so, has your community united to transplant and plant small trees into a community park? There is lots of land available, seeds and seedlings can be obtained for very little, not infrequently without any outlay of money. All that is required to make a start is the voluntary effort of the public-spirited people of a community, and the contribution of some time and effort by them. And in these days, apart from the pleasure thus provided for your own people, such a little beauty spot or small park will advertise your community far and wide—it is by such an enterprise it will be remembered when travellers have long forgotten how many grain elevators or garages your town or village can boast.

Finally, the individual farmstead. Does the house still stand stark and bare on the bald prairie as it did ten or twenty years ago when you first homesteaded? Or are you living in one of those spots which are a delight to every traveller along our highways—a farm home surrounded by trees and hedges, with a bit of lawn, and a garden, small though it may be? The money cost to effect a truly marvellous change is not large; it means to have the necessary ambition and to expend a little time and effort. Yet the dollars and cents value of trees and hedges about the farm home is very great indeed. Try to sell a farm without a trees in competition with one that possesses such an asset and the truth of the statement will be demonstrated.

Many of our western cities, towns, villages and farms, which were hopelessly unattractive places ten or twenty years ago are today places which can boast of much beauty solely as the result of organized and persistent tree, shrub, grass and flower planting campaigns. With the breaking of the drought period of the last few years, now is the time for individuals and communities who have overlooked or neglected the value of such work in the past to begin. Give nature a chance and in the long run she will reward your efforts. Planting, cultivating and watching a grove of trees grow is a cure for pessimism and discouragement; it is a joy in the present and a harbinger of hope for the future.

Convicts Rescued At Sea

Nine Members Of French Penal Colony At Devil's Island Picked Up

By British Boat

Manned by sharks as they drifted for five days in a waterlogged open boat on the Caribbean Sea, nine survivors of a dash for liberty from the French penal colony of Devil's Island were rescued by the British coastal steamer "Tarpon."

The men, after escaping from their island prison, which lies off French Guiana, attempted to reach sanctuary in Venezuela on the northwest. Storms at sea stripped the sail from their frail craft and filled it with water.

They told a dramatic story of the death of a comrade whose last words were "bury me ashore. Don't give me up to the sharks. I shall never see my friends again. Lured by the dead body sharks sped after the boat, but the exhausted felons succeeded in landing on the Pomeroon beach in British territory. There they buried their comrade in a shallow sand grave.

When they put to sea again, a tempest threatened their craft. They waved their shorts as signals, and the "Tarpon" responded as the men were losing hope.

Trying New System

Vegetables Will Admit Farmers To London Fair This Year

Farmers may say it with vegetables when they arrive at the gates of Western Fair in London, next September. The Fair Board are considering a suggestion enthusiastically backed up by the relief department that all farmers be admitted in exchange for a load of foodstuffs. To avoid confusion, the central warehouse is proposed where vegetables will be received weeks in advance and admission tickets issued.

Last winter the city relief department experienced great difficulty in collecting sufficient vegetables, and it is hoped that this system will solve the problem this year. It is estimated sometimes as many as 40,000 farmers attend the fair in a single day.

Persian Balm—the delight of dainty femininity. Imparts a fragrant charm to the complexion. Tones up the skin and makes it velvety soft in texture. Cooling, refreshing, it is a delightful use. Never leaves a vestige of stickiness. Invaluable for hands, face, and as a hair fixative. Wonderfully soothing and protective. Especially recommended in cases of roughness, chafing caused by weather conditions.

Willing To Pay

Consumer Will Give More For Best Quality Produce

There is a contention that the consumer is proved, usually, to pay a premium for a higher quality product more attractively packed farm product. This thought was exemplified lately on the Toronto wholesale markets when the prices of 11-quart baskets of Ontario grown asparagus ranged from $1.60 to $1.50. On the ready acceptance of the $1.50 basket, it was apparent that buyers were willing to pay the higher price when receiving infinitely better quality, and a more attractive pack.

Canada In Good Position

Steps taken by Canadian manufacturers, business men, farmers, to reduce production methods and costs have placed the Dominion in a position to show rapid improvement when world conditions get better. S. H. Logan, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, said at the regular quarterly meeting of directors held in Toronto.

Shall Our Monetary System Be Changed

An Analysis Of Several Of The Proposals Made By Major Strang

The following is brief, are some of the important proposals that have been made for changes in our monetary system:

(1) That the weight of gold in the Canadian dollar shall be reduced from 123.27 grains to 122 grains. This would reduce all internal debts, and those owing abroad payable in Canadian currency, by about 10 per cent. It would enable those who borrowed during the war years to repay with commodities and goods approximately the same value as when they borrowed. It would, however, increase the price of all imports and commodities imported from Canada. Those who loaned money within the last two years would be repaid about one-half of the value which they loaned. Those who borrowed money or purchased property during the last two years would automatically lose the value of the money or property doubled. All those receiving wages or salaries would lose the value of their salaries. The price of everything they had to buy would quickly rise to double.

Again, however, from the virtual wiping down of all debts by half there would be put little permanent advantage because the price of all goods offered for sale, and of wages and salaries, would eventually rise by the same percentage as the value of the dollar was decreased.

(NOTE)—This is simply inflation of currency—France, Germany and other countries after the war tried it but found it practically impossible to control. Inflation seems to be difficult to stop once it has started. What individuals or groups are capable of stating where the inflation will stop, and particularly who is capable of stopping it once it has begun? Inflation seems always to lead in the end to currency becoming practically worthless.

(2) That the Canadian dollar shall be depreciated in value to the present gold standard of the British pound, from 25 to about 20 grains of gold) and that it shall be tied to the pound sterling.

(NOTE)—This is a mild form of proposal No. 1 above. How the currency of an independent country like Canada with its own control over its budget, income and expenditures, could be expected to fluctuate exactly with the British pound, is not stated. In any case would Canadians desire the value of their currency to depend on the whims of the British House of Commons and of the British people and not upon their own (their)?

That the Canadian dollar shall be increased in value to that of the U.S.A. dollar as quickly as possible is a proposal that has no standard of the U.S.A. dollar, and that by law all debts owing shall be reduced by half so that the Government will establish the proper relationship of prices for rents—wages—salaries—goods retail and wholesale, of professional services, etc., etc., or in fact, reduce by law everything excepting money.

(NOTE)—This is financial and economic dictatorship, pure and simple, and is now actually being tried in Germany. The result is a loss of debts and the price of all things down to the currency value, instead of the inflation of the currency up to the debts and prices of all else as is proposed in 1 and 2. If a low general price level of commodities continues long enough of course, this state of affairs is automatically gradually brought about for the reason that many debts would not be possible of repayment, and so would be either written down or cancelled by bankruptcy or by private arrangement, and all other prices of wages and salaries eventually would have to decline to a parity with commodity prices.

(4) That by international arrangement all countries should agree to reduce all gold backing of their official notes and paper currency to a definitely agreed upon percentage.

This would result in a quick rise in the price of all commodities, then the price of all goods, services, wages, salaries, etc., would soon follow and an even balance, in time, would be established. The only real effect of this would be the reduction of all debts, both individual, national and international.

This would allow a greater backing of gold behind notes and currencies than the 40 per cent, which is the maximum amount of gold available for monetary purposes in the world today. The result would be a percentage of backing would consequently diminish the possibility of a country, which, whilst solvent, might be unable to pay its debts of gold, as England was recently.

(NOTE)—The great difficulty of getting many nations to agree either with the principle involved or of the amount of the gold reduction, might be almost insurmountable, although in the mind of considerable international inflation is the most favored of all proposals involving inflation by the majority of economists as a means of raising the price level of commodities and of overcoming what is probably the major defect of the gold standard.

(5) This proposal is practically the same as No. 4 above, but with the proviso that all gold reserves shall be kept in an international reserve bank at some central point—(Geneva has been suggested)—and that the amount of gold behind the world's paper currency shall be raised or lowered periodically in order that the value of the currency will keep step with the value of the gold production and with the production, distribution and consumption of goods and commodities.

(NOTE)—This, of course, would be a form of international managed currency with gold as a basis. This method would be much more difficult to bring into effect and to manage than proposal No. 4, and so would hardly seem to come within the realms of possibility, at least for the present.

(6)—The gold referred to in this article is pure gold mixed with alloy—one-twelfth alloy in the British sovereign and one-tenth alloy in the U.S.A. dollar and Canadian dollar—or 113 Troy grains of pure gold in the sovereign and 234 grains pure gold in the U.S.A. dollar. Or it means that the sovereign contains exactly 4.865 as much gold as the dollar. (This article will be continued in our next weekly issue.)

Profitable Advertising

American Companies Find That Newspaper Advertising Pays

Many companies have maintained and even increased their earnings by a constant newspaper advertising, the American Newspaper Publishers' association last Sunday in announcing the results of a survey by its bureau of advertising.

One automobile concern which increased its newspaper budget 33 per cent, the bureau announced, showed a 40 per cent. increase in earnings during 1931. A manufacturer of electric refrigerators spent $200,000 last year in newspaper space, and dollar sales for the year were 460 per cent. of sales in 1930.

Of four leading tobacco manufacturers who increased newspaper space in 1931, three showed an increase in earnings, and one a slight decline from the high net of a year preceding. Aggregate expenditures of these four companies in newspaper advertising were increased from $20,000,000 in 1930 to $26,000,000 in 1931, and aggregate earnings increased from $105,200,000 to $111,300,000.

Changes in Climate

Scientists Find Earth Becoming Drier and Cooler

—Evidence that the world is growing colder and drier—and has been doing so for millions of years—has been found in tropical jungles by two scientist-explorers.

Traces of past changes in climate, and also hints of what the world may be like in the future, have been discovered during a "journey into the past" by Dr. Ralph W. Chaney of the University of California, and Dr. Erling Dorf of Princeton. Their findings were described by Dr. Chaney.

In the hot, moist rain-forests of Central America and Venezuela the scientists found a sort of "lost world," where plant and animal life closely akin that of the earth's ancient past still survives.

Two-thirds of the trees that lived in western North America millions of years ago, known today by the fossil imprints of their leaves in ancient rocks, have close relatives being found in the forests of Venezuela, the scientists found.

Enforcement of Game Laws

Association Recommends More Strict Laws For Saskatchewan

Placing of the Saskatchewan game branch under a commission, taking of game law administration from politics and stricter enforcement of game laws by the appointment of more guardians and active participation by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, were asked in resolutions passed at the annual convention of the Saskatchewan Fish and Game Protective association.

The association will ask that ferry-men be appointed game guardians to enforce laws in river sanctuaries. Another important resolution was that game law infractions be prosecuted by magistrates in place of local justices of the peace.

Sugar Refinery For Manitoba

Establishment of a beet sugar refinery in Manitoba will be one of the developments of the present year, The Kipp, chairman of the industrial development board of Manitoba, is slated at the annual meeting of that body held in Winnipeg. He said the American Sugar Beet Company of Denver, Colo., would start erection of a branch plant here this year and would have it in operation in 1933.

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Coal dust never killed anyone, according to John Gray, a resident of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, who worked 66 years in the mines there and still in hale and hearty at the age of 79. He began to work underground before he reached the age of 10 and grew up with the Nova Scotia coal industry.

Old Organ Still In Use

The first pipe organ ever used in a church in New Brunswick is still in service in Christ Church, Margerville, Sunbury county, the congregation of that parish having purchased the instrument when it was given to the parish church in Fredericton. The organ was built in England and brought to Fredericton in 1790 by Hon. Thomas Carleton, first lieutenant-governor of New Brunswick.

Lord Rothermere Makes Concrete Suggestions For The Economic Conference

London, England.—Concrete tariff suggestions are put forward by Lord Rothermere, English newspaper magnate, in the course of a long cable from Montreal, which is headed "A Few Simple Points For Agreement At Ottawa," and which will be prominently featured in his leading newspaper, the Daily Mail.

Introducing his suggestions for the basis of agreement on intra-empire trade at the Imperial Economic Conference which will shortly be convened at Ottawa, Lord Rothermere declares the natural destiny of Canada and Great Britain lies in closer economic union. Future generations, he declares, "will marvel that the Canadians and ourselves have taken so long to recognize their true relationship."

In addition to his tariff suggestions, Lord Rothermere declares of especial importance to Canada is the establishment of all empire currencies on the basis of sterling instead of gold. "Canada's efforts to keep her currency linked with that of the United States will mean slow assassination of the dominion's trade and industry," he declares. "Canada has a great future within the empire; she can have none as an economic spanner of America."

Lord Rothermere's factual suggestions are these:

Great Britain should put an import duty of a shilling (one cent at gold par) per bushel on foreign wheat, and an equivalent duty on flour, while admitting Canadian and other empire wheat and flour free of duty.

Three-quarters of Great Britain's consumption of timber for building purposes should be purchased from Canada.

Great Britain should impose a 25 per cent. duty on foreign produce such as canned meat, fish, fruit, cheese, butter and bacon, and a further duty of 10 per cent. on foreign beef and mutton.

On the other side of the bargain Lord Rothermere proposes:

Canada, after reserving by means of a prohibitive duty, a domestic market corresponding to the past five-year average output of Canadian iron and steel industries, should secure the remainder of the Canadian market for the British iron and steel industry.

Canada should similarly, after reserving a domestic market for the output of the Canadian textile and chemical industry, reserve market for British textiles and chemicals.

Crop Conditions

Improvement In Western Provinces Is Indicated In Government Report

Ottawa, Ont.—Canadian crop conditions are much improved in the western provinces and distinctly lower in the maritimes and eastern Canada, as compared with last year. This statement is made in the government report on crop conditions issued June 28.

Western crops have maintained their condition fairly well, the report states, in a period of spotty rainfall and higher temperature. Likelihood of heavy damage from outcrops is now past but grasshoppers are still dangerous and are particularly damaging in Manitoba.

In some large areas rain is needed to prevent crop deterioration, but generally the present moisture supplies are satisfactory.

In British Columbia, recent weather has been almost ideal with plenty of heat and rain. Hay is nearly completed. Cereal crops are looking fine.

Democrats Adopt Plank For Repeal Of The Dry Law

Chicago Stadium.—A plank putting the party on record for repeal of the 18th amendment and for immediate modification of the Volstead law was adopted by the United States Democratic National Convention.

Other high points of the 1932 Democratic pronouncement of policies included:

Refinancing farm mortgages; extension of co-operative marketing; effective control of crop surpluses; and endorsement of "every constitutional

New Source Of Wealth

Investigate Possibilities Of White Whale Fisheries In Hudson Bay

Winnipeg, Man.—A new source of wealth from the Hudson Bay is to be developed under the auspices of the Manitoba Industrial Development Board. The sub-committee on fish by-products will bring six white whales here from the bay for sampling.

The committee has come to the conclusion there is a potential Canadian market for oil, meat and leather from the aquatic animals, and an overseas market is also thought to exist for certain of the oils which could be profitably exported through Hudson Bay. After preliminary tests of the product are completed, samples will be sent to England, and a survey of the European market will be made by a representative of a Winnipeg firm.

A. Cunningham, director of game and fisheries, who is chairman of the committee, hopes ultimately to see the establishment of a rendering plant at Churchill, sea port on Hudson Bay.

Boy Saved From Quicksand

After Four Hours' Struggle Firemen Rescue Him Unharmed

Chicago.—A four-hour struggle against treacherous quicksand that threatened to swallow alive Robert Bycroft, 15, ended in victory as a crowd of 5,000 persons looked on.

Bycroft was trapped in the quicksand at a newly-filled beach on Lake Michigan. Firemen found the youth sunk in sand to his neck and held as firmly as if he had been imbedded in cement.

They improvised a coffin dam with a barrel and sunk it around the boy. A fire hose was played on the sand. After four hours he was rescued unharmed.

Mr. Carpenter was in Montreal to attend proceedings of the grand lodge of British North America, of the Orange Order. Monday he was elected deputy grand master of the Black Knights. He was a past grand master of the order in British Columbia.

Rochester, who dealt with the brokerage firm for more than two years, is, by this judgment, returned every dollar he ever invested with Solloway, Mills and Co. He is also allowed interest at five per cent. from December 19, 1929.

To Tour Canada

Group Of Empire Farmers On Visit To Dominion

Quebec, Que.—"To see and to learn" might be the motto of the group of empire farmers who arrived here on the liner "Empress of Australia." They spent two days in Quebec prior to starting on a trans-Canada tour.

Thirty-seven in number and including 13 women, members of the party are all farmers or closely connected with farming, and represent the mother country, South Africa and Irish Free State. They are travelling under auspices of the British National Union accompanied by Arthur Canham, Secretary of the Union and former South African Trade Commissioner to Great Britain.

The party is composed of 12 members from all parts of South Africa, two from the Irish Free State and the remainder from England and Scotland. Among them are Daniel Crawford, former treasurer of the National Farmers' Union of England, and M. G. Viljoen, of Cape Province, South Africa, a former candidate of the Nationalist Party.

Other members of the executive council are: J. C. Puddister, secretary of State; L. E. Emerson, K.C., Minister of Justice; H. A. Winter, K.C., James Ayer, Hon. F. McNamara, S. J. Poole, Harold Mitchell, John Stone.

"Flying Box-Car" Carries Equipment To Northern Gold Fields

Lac Du Bonnet, Man.—Prospecting in Manitoba entered upon a new phase when ten prospectors with 6,000 pounds of supplies, equipment and five canoes, left here in one aeroplane for the Island Lake gold field, 200 miles north and on the Manitoba-Ontario boundary.

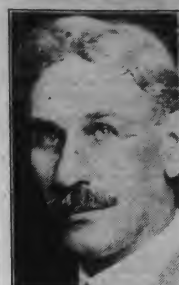

Their sky chariot was the huge Junkers of the Canadian Airways, the "Flying Box-Car."

The machine was chartered by the Manitoba Chamber of Mines with the result that the ten prospectors can get into the field at a cost of about 600 each, including equipment.

All entrants must be amateurs and should apply to William Schon, of the Saskatchewan pool elevators, Prince Albert, for entry forms.

Heavy Penalty For Fraud

Moscow, Russia.—Five employees of Moscow's state retail stores were sentenced to death after a six-day trial on charges of defrauding the state of 1,000,000 rubles (nominally $500,000) by theft, illegal raising of prices and by supplying speculators.

Seven others were sentenced to ten years in prison and eight were sent to jail for three to five years. Three other defendants were acquitted.

Hope Is Held For Arbitration Of The Irish Annuities Question

Gas Conservation

Obstacles Occur In Efforts Of Government To Avoid Waste In Turner Valley

Calgary, Alberta.—Alberta's gas conservation troubles were increased when the board, formed by the provincial government to conserve waste gas in Turner Valley, stumbled over another obstacle in a path already strewn with trouble. Wells in the south end of Turner Valley, with their terrific gas pressure, formed the stumbling block to the gas conservation board's efforts to reduce gas production to less than 200,000,000 cubic feet daily.

The board had issued orders for all wells in this section of Canada's largest gas field to be closed. Operators, however, complained their property would be damaged and probably be made useless if the board attempted to stem the flow of gas. F. P. Flaher, consulting engineer to the board, instigated an investigation which showed closing of the extremely heavy gas pressure would prove disastrous.

It was pointed out that cement work in certain wells was faulty, and sudden shutting in of the gas might result in the product breaking through the cement lining, thereby losing a large flow. Mr. Flaher, however, believed conservation tests may be proceeded with in a few days, but he would make no definite statement as to its resumption. Repair work to the cement would have to be done first.

A few operators feared that sudden closing in of the great flow might be followed by serious explosions, although this was refuted by other experts, who pointed out that during the conservation tests last summer all wells were closed down without any undue results.

Deportation Case

Appeal To Supreme Court Of Canada Is Delayed

Halifax, N.S.—The appeal to the supreme court of Canada on behalf of alleged Communists held here for deportation will be held up at least a week while Mr. Justice Ross, of the supreme court of Nova Scotia, considers the application for leave. When formal motion was made recently by L. A. Ryan, counsel for a group of eight of the alleged Reds, C. B. Smith, K.C., representing the crown, appeared in opposition to the appeal. His lordship continued the application for a week, and intimated that he might hear further argument from Mr. Ryan.

The condemned men sought release under habeas corpus proceedings, but their action was dismissed by a supreme court judge and later by the full bench of the Nova Scotia supreme court.

Printing Jobs Go Abroad

London, Ont.—Charging that $50,000,000 worth of printing for Canadian firms was done outside Canada in 1931, the Ontario-Quebec Conference of Typographical Unions tried to gain against this alleged condition. They will ask the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and other employing organizations to condemn the practice. The printing for some companies was done in countries as far away as Sweden, it was claimed.

Measure Of Success Is Expected From Lausanne Conference

Lausanne.—Despite the pessimistic atmosphere of the past few days, the Lausanne Conference looks like achieving a measure of success in its gigantic task of solving the reparations and inter-governmental debts tangle that has Europe on the verge of a crash.

"Although I am sorry to say I cannot report to you we have got a complete measure of agreement, we have got, I think, agreements," Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, the chairman, guardedly commented at a meeting of the six principal powers at the conference.

These are the points on which all the principal powers, including France and Germany have finally agreed:

(1) Adjustment of inter-governmental war debts and reparations

Dublin, Irish Free State.—Strong hopes that the disputed question of land annuities may yet be arbitrated were held following indications that President Eamon de Valera is backing down from his decision that if they are to be arbitrated, it should be by an international tribunal.

It was indicated that President Eamon de Valera might agree to having the annuities defaulted by the Irish Free State, to the amount of $1,500,000, arbitrated by a tribunal, the chairman of which, it is suggested, might be Prime Minister J. B. Heurtz, of South Africa, who has already sent representations that the matter should be arbitrated.

But if it is finally found impossible to arbitrate the question, then President Eamon de Valera is expected to produce sweeping tariff measures in reprisal for the threatened new imports on Free State goods entering Great Britain, by which means Great Britain has indicated she will recoup itself defaulted sums. The Free State president, in the event of failure to reach an agreement, is expected to call for a general election in which he would campaign on the tariff measures.

Montreal, Que.—If Great Britain carries out her threat to impose additional tariff duties on Irish imports to reach an annuities payments, "in six months there will be an economic collapse in Ireland and it will have to pay its debts to Great Britain," said Lord Rothermere, British publisher, here.

Quick Mail Delivery From British Isles

New Record Set Up By Airplane and Ship

Ottawa, Ont.—The post office air mail service combined with the Canadian Pacific Steamships to establish a new record for mail delivery from the British Isles. Letters which left Southampton June 24, at noon, were transferred to a mail plane at Bellefleur Bay in the Strait of Belle Isle, June 28, and delivered in Ottawa, Montreal, and New York the same night. This time is believed to be faster than that established by the "Empress of Europe," and other mail carrying ocean greyhounds.

The experiment was to test the merits of a mail delivery plan from the Imperial Conference, and it proved to be a success from every angle.

Retiring Ages Set

New Ruling Applies To Members Of Royal Canadian Mounted Police

Ottawa, Ont.—For the first time since organization of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, retiring ages for members have been set by order-in-council.

The order places the retiring age of the commissioner at 65 years; deputy commissioner, 64; assistant commissioners, 63; superintendents, 62, and inspectors 60.

For the sergeant-major, the retiring age is 57 years; staff sergeants and sergeants, 58, and other ranks, 56.

The order goes into effect immediately, but there are few, if any, members of the force who have reached the retiring age.

should take place without delay in new disasters are to be avoided.

(2) Steps are necessary to ensure the stability of the German currency.

(3) The conference must end in something substantial and, so far as possible, final, although it is recognized a final settlement has to be adapted to a world settlement which includes the United States.

(4) The conference must end soon, and the settlement must be such as will render possible restoration of confidence.

(5) Artificial transfers disturbing the international balance of accounts should only take place—if at all—by the normal operation of international commerce and should be limited to that capacity.

(6) Germany cannot pay at the present time.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

The success of the celebration of Dominion Day has a deeper significance than just a success as a sports day. It demonstrates that by a spirit of co-operation, an effective bond is established in promoting goodwill among the diverse elements of Coleman's citizenry. It carries inspiration to old and young, and shows that whatever our racial origin may be, there is a general desire to join in commemorating the anniversary of Canadian Confederation, whereby the provinces of the Dominion were combined into a vigorous young nation. Its 65th birthday causes people to reflect on the achievements of the Makers of Canada, and its further progress depends on the united spirit of loyalty which was so evident in Coleman last Friday.

If you want a thing done, ask a busy man to do it. Such is the popular idea. But the busy man will protest at being used the same as the willing horse—trying to put on him every job that less energetic people should be trying to do. The lazy, the selfish, who will not do a thing unless they receive direct advantage, will let George do it and they will share in the benefits. And there are some whose lack of vision does not permit them to see that everything they do to help their home town helps their individual business. But the man who will gladly help in community welfare work or take a hand in board of trade work, will usually be the kind of man you are glad to do business with. Let's have more of their kind.

Motoring for recreation has its benefits. If you cannot afford a car, there is pleasure to be obtained in walking on the footpaths that wind among the hills. For quiet reflection and opportunities to fully observe the glories of Nature's wonders in the summer-time—the mountain flowers unfolding their beauty, to hear the soothing sound of streams rippling over their winding courses, the ever changing shades of light and color on the mountains—these are enjoyed more than by speeding over a gravelled highway. Too often we overlook attractions that lie close at hand, where peace and contentment may be obtained, and where one's thoughts may wander in meditative contemplation of all that makes up life. Such quiet walks one treasures in their "garden of memories" long after they have enjoyed them—in fact to recall them is to live them over again.

Most public addresses are tiresome; they could be condensed into a quarter of the time and convey the same information. Words are wasted, in print and in speech. Many speakers imagine they must amplify their words by explanations, which bore the listeners. A carefully prepared address will have the non-essentials eliminated. For that reason it will evoke keen interest. Too many meaningless words cause an audience to shuffle and their thoughts to wander—some drop off to sleep—if the place is comfortable.

Coleman needs more athletes among its young people. In the athletic events on Dominion Day, competitors from this town were put into the shade by those of other towns. There is every opportunity to develop an athletic and sports association.

Here is a suggestion for the churches and others interested in healthy play for young people. Train the boys and girls so that a healthy rivalry will be developed and provide worth-while competition for future athletic meets in the Pass towns. This branch of sport among the school children has been neglected. With the prospect of an annual sports day on July 1, there is sufficient inducement to train for running races and other events. A healthy body usually accompanies a healthy mind.

The increasing number of tourists travelling through the mountains means business—good business to those towns in which they stop. The money they spend depends on the service and the courtesy with which they are met. Stores or business places with attractive fronts are the most likely to be patronized by visitors. Brighten up main street, especially in the summer time, so that visitors will be induced to tarry awhile instead of stepping on the gas.

The only way we know of whereby you can earn a living sufficient to meet the needs of the day is to work faithfully every day, for only by work can we receive the rewards which the earth gives. Too many who "kid" themselves into believing they are working are just putting in the day.

The importance of a properly made up invoice or billhead cannot be over-estimated. See that your stationery properly represents your business and leave your orders with The Journal. Envelopes carry your message to its destination. They are important, and this office can suggest attractive printing copy.

On July 2, 1924, he was made Assistant Auditor of Miscellaneous Accounts, and on February 10th, 1928, he was appointed Assistant Comptroller. E. A. Leslie, who becomes Deputy Comptroller is a son of John Leslie, and followed his distinguished father into the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. In 1912 he succeeded in winning a Canadian Pacific scholarship at McGill University, and became a student of transportation. He graduated in 1915 with a bachelor of science degree. Mr. Leslie immediately enlisted with the Canadian Artillery, and after serving in England and in France, was demobilized in May 1919 with the rank of Lieutenant. Mr. Leslie was promoted to the post of Assistant Comptroller in February, 1928.

Local News

A Dominion Day visitor, who stayed over the week-end with his son, was Mr. T. Clarke of Macleod, whose interesting stories of mounted police days are often noticed in the Lethbridge Herald.

Salvaging Lost Gold

Divers Are Bringing Up Ingots From Sunken Liner

Brest, France.—Thirty ingots of gold, valued at $1,000,000, were stowed away in the hold of the salvage ship "Artiglio II," as divers, with renewed vigor, dropped into the sea to fish up the rest of the $5,000,000 which went down with the liner "Egypt" ten years ago.

The $1,000,000 of gold was clumped down on the "Artiglio's" deck represents four years of dogged labor against the power of the storms and sea. Two stout ships have been lost in the quest and the lives of 15 seamen. The tragedy of the past was mirrored in the dramatic scenes on the "Artiglio's" deck when the ingots were brought up. There was a moment of silence in honor of the divers who were killed two years ago in the explosion which destroyed the "Artiglio I."

Paris, France.—The French salvage company, which first discovered the location of the hull of the liner, "Egypt," from which $1,000,000 had been recovered by the salvage ship "Artiglio II," will claim part of the booty, Captain Jean Davy said in an interview with Paris-Midi, Paris newspaper.

More Prevalent in Cities

Common Cold Flourishes Best in Crowded Centres

That colds are associated with crowded cities public health officials have long suspected. Dr. Wilson G. Smilie of Harvard now supplies the supporting evidence. In four isolated communities colds are caught only from outsiders. Spitzbergen's case is especially impressive. The miners of that most northerly community live and sleep in damp, hot barracks, work in drafts at temperatures below freezing, but catch no cold. When Dr. Smilie concludes that the common cold must be attributed to an infection and probably to one that can never be seen under the microscope we naturally ask if there is no serum that will impart immunity. He holds out no hope. Only the secondary infections may perhaps be thus controlled. The primary cold seems to be unconquerable—the price we pay for swarming in cities.

Few Canadians were familiar even with the name of the man who was in charge of the construction of the greatest public work ever completed in the Dominion of Canada. When work was resumed in 1919 after the war, it was Mr. Wetler who was made consulting engineer. For the last few years he has been on pension from the Federal Government.

Contract Bridge

By Hamilton B. Hatch, Cavendish Club, Toronto

In my previous article the methods of valuing the trick taking probabilities of hands were given. Today I will deal with the application of these principles.

It must be understood that in Contract it is the endeavor of the partnership in any particular deal, to fall as precisely and as definitely as possible the story of the twenty-six cards held by the partnership. For this reason, certain basic conventions are necessary and also certain definite formulae for card valuations. Both of these have been outlined in previous articles.

The opening bidder, under ordinary circumstances, opens the bidding when his hand contains three or four high honor cards, he thinks, under average conditions, will take from two to three tricks in any declaration the adversaries may make. Also the opening bidder guarantees, that, in case he and his partner are the declarers the bidding hand will take as a minimum, from four to five tricks, if the deal is played in the original declaration made. That therefore there are nine tricks left for the three remaining hands, and that the opening bidder expects his partner to have at least three of these. Therefore when an opening bid of one is made normal expectancy by the opening bidder is three taking tricks in the declared suit in his partner's hand. These three taking tricks are made up of the three kinds of tricks, i.e. High card tricks, long suit tricks and ruffing tricks.

It must be borne in mind that, in Contract, provided there is no interference bidding, the first response by the partner of the original bidder is the vital response. In other words it is upon the first response that the success or non-success of that particular deal depends. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that this first response be precise. In any raise by partner of the original bidder's declaration, the raise must be given in full. As normal expectancy is three taking tricks, the full raise is the number of tricks above three that the hand contains. This works out as follows:—The original bid is one spade. This bid definitely informs the partnership that the bidding hand contains a minimum of from four to five taking tricks with spades trumps. The original bidder's partner decides that the spade bid fits his hand and that the deal should be played with spades trumps. The responding hand then figures the actual trick taking probabilities of the hand with spades trumps. If the hand will take four tricks, then he raises the bid to two shades. If the hand will take five tricks he bids three spades and so on. In other words he gives raises corresponding to the number of taking tricks he has above three. The following example will explain this.

The Bidding.—South is the Opening Bidder

1 S W N E

4 Spades Pass 3 Pass Pass

In valuing North's hand the procedure is as follows:—

Half a trick for the four card spade suit.

Half a trick for the Jack of Spades.

One trick for the ability to ruff the third round of hearts.

Two tricks for the Ace, King of Spades.

Half a trick for the four card club suit.

Half a trick for the King of Clubs. Or a total of five taking tricks with Spades trumps. Normal expectancy is three tricks. Therefore North has two raises and bids three spades.

South's hand is valued as follows:—

Two tricks for the Ace, King of Spades.

Two tricks for the five card spade suit.

One trick for the Ace of Hearts. Or a total of five taking tricks. As North has shown five taking tricks and South has five, then North bids four spades, as the bidding has disclosed ten taking tricks in the combined hands.

The valuations which I gave you in a previous article are uncanny in their accuracy up to ten tricks. In the next article it will be shown under what circumstances they are not accurate and why. It may be said however that eighty per cent of the time they are accurate.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JULY 10

THE CALL OF MOSES

Golden Text: "Certainly I will be with thee."—Exodus 3:12.

Lesson: Exodus 2:11 to 4:20.

Devotional Reading: Isaiah 61:8.

Explanations and Comments

Called To a Great Task, Exodus 3:10.—"The biography of great men is not confined to public events. It relates the incidents which are private, and describes the experiences which are spiritual and account for spiritual results. Thus it was with Moses; we must be with him in the wilderness in order to understand his conduct at the head of the host of Israel." At Horeb the call came to Moses to become the leader of his people, deliver them from oppression in Egypt, and bring them forth on their way to the Promised Land. He stood before a bush that burned and yet was not consumed.

"How clear is the anticipation here of what is now the accepted truth of physical science, that the energy of God, through various expended in nature and in history, is never consumed and never destroyed!"

"I have seen the affliction of my people. . . . I am come down to deliver them. . . . Come now therefore, and will send thee to Pharaoh, that thou mayest bring forth my people the children of Israel out of Egypt." With a flash of insight Moses knew that God was calling him to the stupendous task of delivering his enslaved brethren in Egypt.

"The dialogue between Jehovah and Moses, as in other cases, must be pictured, not as an audible externally, but as giving expression—in words which are naturally those of the narrator—to Moses' mental communings with God, through which he was gradually taught by him that, in spite of the difficulties which he saw before him, he was nevertheless to be God's agent for accomplishing Israel's deliverance."—S. R. Driver.

"God has a way of His own into the spirit which He has made. He lays His will upon man, and the man wakens to the realization that he stands summoned by that being to specific mission and definite service."

"And, as the path of duty is made plain, May grace be given that I may walk therein."

Not like the hireling for his selfish gain, But cheerful in the light around me thrown, Waking as one to pleasant service led, Doing God's will as if it were my plain.

Yet trusting not in mine, but in his strength alone."—Whittier.

Body Emits Violet Rays

Rays From Woman's Eye Destroys Yeast Cells

A woman's eye killed yeast cells simply by looking at them at Cornell University recently. This discovery, suggesting "violet rays," has found due to an ordinarily harmless form of ultra violet rays given off by human bodies generally was reported to the American Association for the advancement of science.

The experiments were described by Dr. Otto Rahn, of the Cornell Bacteriology Department.

The yeast cells—each a tiny particle—were laid on a glass slide. The woman placed her eye close, as in looking through a microscope. The cells died in a few minutes. Previous experiments with other parts of the body explain the lethal power in this feminine look.

For several years scientists have been reporting various discoveries that living things produce ultra violet rays. In the human body they were first found coming from working muscles, the heat of the body, from the eyes. Then they were found in the blood and in carcinoma, a form of cancer.

The finger tip rays of several persons at Cornell killed yeast readily. Through quartz placed above the cells, the killing required about 15 minutes; without it two to five minutes. The quartz helped to show that ultra violet was the cause. Yeast protected by ordinary glass which is impervious to ultra violet was unharmed.

After the finger, the tip of the nose was discovered to be a fine ultra violet "tube." Then came the eye.

The human rays are not always harmful. From some persons they are beneficial to tiny plants. There seems to be no difference in the kind but the volume differs. When large it is lethal to yeast. The same person emits it at different rates. He may be "killing" at one period and "benign" at another.

What Price Accidents?

Burden Of Cost Falls On Just and Unjust Alike

The average citizen when he picks up the paper and reads about an automobile accident "may feel a fleeting moment of sympathy for the victim, but he dismisses the incident from his mind as something that does not concern him personally. If he stopped to think, he would realize that every automobile accident involving injury or loss of life affects his pocketbook. Nearly every such accident calls for emergency hospitalization and this in its turn costs money.

To this cost must be added the expense of automatic signals, court and traffic squads. Insurance rates also increase. So that any way one figures the matter out the burden of such accidents falls upon the just and the unjust alike.

In the year 1931 there were some 3,000,000 automobile accidents in the United States, with 1,000,000 people killed or injured. This is too appalling to have seen. It is a fact that touches everybody's pocketbook more than the cost which the accidents involve. The sum total of all these charges should be great enough to make the people of the United States bend every effort to reduce automobile hazard.

The remedy lies solely with the people themselves.—Argonaut, San Francisco.

Binder Twine Shipments

Eighty Millions Pounds To Be Handled Over Lake Head Docks

Binder twine to the amount of approximately 80,000,000 pounds will be handled over the docks of Port William and Port Arthur ports this year to meet the requirements of western Canada, where grain fields are expected to produce one of the biggest crops in history.

Already twice by the thousands of bales is finding its way up the lakes to the twin ports to be unloaded and transhipped by rail to scores of distributing agencies throughout the three prairie provinces.

Twine that will tie up Canada's 1932 crop is coming from the mills of the International Harvester company, the Plymouth Cordage company and from Dutch mills in Rotterdam. Much of it will be unloaded at and shipped west from the transfer houses of the first two companies, but millions of pounds will pass through the C.P.R. and C.N.R. freight sheds, the whole operation providing employment for hundreds of stevedores during the summer months.

Would Share Profits

Alberta Urban Municipalities Want Portion Of Taxes Levied by Province

Alberta urban municipalities believe they are entitled to a share of provincial income levies, gasoline tax and liquor profits. A resolution passed at the closing session of the annual union of Alberta municipalities convention asked the government for a part of these returns.

The resolution was passed following an address by Premier John Brownlee in which he declared a request for a share in provincial revenues would be of no avail under present conditions.

Mayor I. Bullivant, of Medicine Hat, was elected president of the association for the coming year and Calgary was chosen for the 1933 convention.

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

Once more the curtain had fallen, and to the hum of conversation suddenly released, the lights flashed up into being again over the auditorium. Simultaneously the door of Lady Anne's box was opened from the corridor outside.

"May I come in?" said a voice—a pleasant voice with a gay infection of laughter running through it as though its owner were quite sure of his welcome—and Burke, big and striking-looking in the door of Lady Anne's box was opened from the corridor outside.

He shook hands all round, his glance slightly quizzical as it met Jean's, and then Lady Anne presented him to the Comtesse de Varigny.

It almost seemed as though something, some mutual recognition of a kindred spirit, flashed from the warm southern-dark eyes to the fiery brown ones, and when, a minute or two later, Burke established himself in the seat next to Jean, vacated by Nick, he murmured in a low tone: "Where did you find that Eastern-looking charmer? I feel convinced I could lose my heart to her without any effort."

Jean could hardly refrain from smiling. This was her first meeting with Burke since the occasion of the scene which had occurred between them in the little parlour at the "honeymooners' inn," and now he met her with a look of such cordiality and in the world, other than of a mutually pleasing and amiable nature, had taken place. It was so exactly like Burke, she reflected helplessly.

"Then you had better go and make love to her," she suggested. "This happens to be a husband in the background—a little hypocrite, with quite charming manners—but I don't suppose you would consider that any obstacle."

"None," retorted Burke placidly. "I'm quite certain she can't be in love with him. Her taste would be more—robust, I should say. Where is she stopping?"

"At Clargide's. We met her there this evening. I knew her in Switzerland."

"Well, you shall all come out to supper with me tomorrow—the Countess included."

Jean shook her head demurely. "We shall all be back at St. Pierre tomorrow—the Countess excepted. You can take her."

"Then the supper must be tonight," replied Burke serenely.

"What are you doing in town, anyway?" asked Jean. "Is Judith with you?"

"No. Came up to see my tailor"—laconically.

He crossed the box to arrange matters with Lady Anne, and before the curtain rose on the last act it was settled that they should all have supper together after the play.

Later, when Burke had once more resumed his seat next Jean, Madame de Varigny, whose hearing, like her other senses, was preternaturally acute, caught a whispered plaint breathed into Nick's ear by Lady Anne.

"Now isn't that provoking, Nick darling? Why on earth need Geoffrey Burke have turned up in town on our last evening? I was hoping, later on—if you and I were very discreet and—"

Madame de Varigny's eyes remained fixed upon the stage. There was no change in their expression to indicate that Lady Anne's plaintive murmur had at that moment supplied her with the key of the whole situation as it lay between Jean and the two men who were sitting one each side of her.

But the following evening, when the St. Pierre party having left town, she and Burke were dining alone together at a little restaurant in Soho, the knowledge she had gleaned bore fruit.

Burke never quite knew what impulse it was that had prompted him, as he made his farewells after the supper-party, to murmur in Madame de Varigny's ear, "Dine with me tomorrow night." It was as though the dark mysterious eyes had spoken to him, compelling him to some sort of friendly overture which the shortness of his acquaintance with their owner would not normally have inspired.

It was not until the coffee and cigarette stage of the little dinner had been reached that Madame de Varigny suddenly shot her dart.

"So you come all the way up from this place, Combe—Combe Eavie?—to see Mees Peterson, and hey, presto! She vanishes the next morning!"

Burke stared at her almost rudely. The woman's perspicacity annoyed him.

"I came up to see my tailor," he replied curtly.

"Mais parfaitement!" she laughed with low, melodious laughter, tinged with frank friendliness of amusement which somehow smoothed away Burke's annoyance at her shrewd summing up of the situation. "To see your tailor. 'Naturellement!' But you were not sorry to encounter Mees Peterson also, hein? You enjoyed that?"

Burke's eyes gleamed at her.

"Do you think a dog enjoys looking at the bone that's out of reach?" he said bluntly.

"And is Mees Peterson, then, out of your reach? Me, I do not think so."

"Burke was moved to sudden candour."

"She might not be, if it were not that there is another man—"

"Ce Monsieur Tor-ma-rin?"

"Yes, confound him!"

"We-ell!" with a long-drawn inflection compact of gentle irony. "You should be able to win against this Monsieur Tor-ma-rin. I think you will win."

Burke shook his head gloomily.

"He had first innings. He met her abroad somewhere—rescued her in the snow or something. That rescuing stunt always pays with a woman. All I did—with a short, harsh laugh—"

"was nearly to break her neck for her out driving with me one day recently!"

"Is she engaged to Monsieur Tor-ma-rin?" asked Madame de Varigny quickly.

"No. Luckily, there's some old affair in the past holds him back."

She nodded.

"You shall marry her," she declared with conviction. "See, Monsieur Bewrick—'Ale, ale, quel nom!'"

"I am 'clairvoyante, prophétesse,'" and I tell you that you will marry his little brown Jean."

Her foreign accent, strengthened with her increasing emphasis, Burke looked dubious.

"I'm afraid your clairvoyance will fail this journey, madame. She'll probably marry Tor-ma-rin—unless—his eyes glinting—I carry her off by force."

Madame de Varigny shook her head emphatically.

"But no! I do not see it like that. 'Eh bien!' If she become fiancée—engaged to him—you shall come to me, and I will tell you how to make sure that she shall not marry him."

"Tell me now!"

"Non, non! Win her your own way. Only if you do not succeed, if Monsieur Tor-ma-rin wins her—why, then, come to visit me at Chateau Varigny."

That night a letter written in the Comtesse de Varigny's flowing foreign handwriting sped on its way to France.

"Matters work towards completion," it ran. "My visit here has changed 'bien a propos.' There is another would-be lover beside Elsie Tor-ma-rin. I have urged him on to win her if he can, for if I have not wrongly estimated Monsieur Tor-ma-rin—and I do not think I have—he is of the type to become deeper in love and less able to master his feelings if he realizes that he has a rival. At present he refrains from declaring himself. The opposition of a rival will probably drive him into a declaration very speedily. When the dog sees the bone about to be taken from him—he cannot do so I encourage—"

Madame de Varigny's letter, headed Hon. of a man, Monsieur Burke, to pursue his 'affaire du coeur' with vigour. For if Elsie Tor-ma-rin becomes actually betrothed to Mademoiselle Peterson, it will make his punishment the more complete. I pray the God of Justice that it may not now be long delayed!"

A Remarkable Cure

Crippled Girl's Arm and Legs "Rebuilt" By Noted Surgeon

After two years in hospital, complete cure in eight for Fred Penny, a pretty girl, 18, crippled for 13 years by infantile paralysis, which left her with twisted legs and a crooked right arm. Her limbs have been "rebuilt" by a noted surgeon.

Bones of the arm and legs, parts of the body and used to reinforce and build up ankles twisted away from years of hobbling about on crutches.

Gradually her legs were made straight and shapely. Her right hand was practically useless, but a long incision was made in the wrist and a muscle taken out and placed in the hand to make the thumb and fingers work.

Incisions made in various parts of the body made 250 stitches necessary.

The patient can now stand on her feet unaided, and after her next operation it is hoped that she will be able to enjoy life like any other normal girl.

Sell Canadian Tobacco

Canadian Smoking Tobacco and Cigarettes Have Invaded England

There is special interest in the following item which appears in the current issue of the "Economic Annalist," official organ of the Agricultural Economics Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture:

"Brands of smoking tobacco and cigarettes made wholly of Canadian grown tobacco were introduced in Great Britain during 1931 and have met with a very fair measure of success. Canadian manufactures were the first to offer a Canadian pipe tobacco and very recently a cigarette made entirely of Canadian bright leaf has been placed on the market."

Forecast Big Crop

The Lethbridge Herald says forecasters are already putting the Alberta wheat crop this year at 150,000,000. It's a long way to August 20, when cutting may be expected to commence, and many things may happen. However, if the price outlook were as bright as the yield prospects we would all be happy.

Little Helps For This Week

"It is God that girdeth me with strength, and maketh my way perfect."—Psalm xviii, 32.

Even as a nurse, whose child's imperfect pace Can hardly lead his foot from place to place,

Leaves her fond kissing, sets him down to go, Nor does uphold him for a step or two;

But when she finds that he begins to fall, She holds him up and kisses him withal;

So God from man sometimes withdraws His hand, Awhile to teach His infant faith to stand;

But when He sees his feeble strength begin to fail, He gently takes him up again.—Quarles.

When the babe puts his little soft hand into yours, his hand is as strong as yours, since it is yours that guides it; so, when we put our hand into God's, we are by His grace as strong as He is, since He leads, and we only follow.—Henry Ward Beecher.
